Himmelfarb is going beyond the brick and mortar walls of the library by delivering reference help either virtually or through our “house call” services. In addition to himmelfarb@gwu.edu, you and your students can instantly get help by chatting or texting a librarian to get your research questions answered. Need a virtual consultation? Contact us to arrange a virtual consultation via Blackboard Collaborate using real time audio and video conferencing. Collaborate allows us to share our desktop, delivering a real-time interactive platform where users can share documents, use a whiteboard, browse websites or explore databases to help facilitate research support. Do you need to have an in-person reference consultation? Our reference team makes “house calls” providing weekly office hours or by appointment reference support at the Milken Institute School of Public Health, 2000 Pennsylvania Avenue, Innovation Hall in Ashburn, VA or your office.
