March 2018

Are you or your students participating in GW Research Day or a conference? Himmelfarb Library is hosting our annual Research Day workshop series providing support for students and faculty participating in GW's Research Day. Himmelfarb collaborates each year with the University Office of Research as well as the SMHS, SON and GWSPH to promote student participation in the annual GW Health Sciences Research Day.

Watch the Research Days 2017 video series we created

If you are working with students on a study please encourage them to attend. Participants can attend the on-campus workshops or virtually via GW WebEx. We encourage distance students as well as any student whose schedule does not allow them to attend the on-campus workshop to sign-up via WebEx.

Please share the following workshops with your students:
