Looking for resources to help you and your students design and execute a research project? Explore Sage Research Methods – this database, available through Himmelfarb Library, allows users to browse reference materials, datasets, cases, videos, podcasts, books, and more. Search by content type, discipline (there are 25 to choose from, including medicine, public health, and nursing), or topic. The research tools section of this resource includes a Methods Map, Project Planner, Reading Lists, and a “Which Stats Test” feature that helps you determine which statistical test is best for your project.

Are you looking for a quick explanation of a term or concept? Check out the dictionary or encyclopedia entry.

Looking for in-depth coverage of a specific aspect of a method? Search for a book chapter that hones in on the topic.

Need sample datasets for hands-on practice or to use in assignments or exams? Explore datasets.

Want to see a method in action? Delve into videos.

To give you a sampling of what you’ll find, when you use the advanced search feature to search for “Ethnography”, and limit to the last five years, you’ll find, among other items, these books in your search results:

- Being Ethnographic: A Guide to the Theory and Practice of Ethnography
- Thinking Ethnographically
- The Sage Handbook of Online Research Methods (specifically, the chapter titled Ethnographies of Online Communities and Social Media: Modes, Varieties, Affordances)

- The Sage Handbook of Qualitative Research Ethics
- Doing Triangulation and Mixed Methods (there is a chapter on Triangulation in Ethnography)
