August 2021

GW faculty can access software in addition to the databases, e-journals, and e-textbooks available, through the Himmelfarb Library website:

REDCap survey software

REDCap software lets you create online surveys to collect any type of data, schedule invitations and follow up notifications to be emailed to study participants, program data collection forms using skip logic, and export text or number data to common statistical packages. PHI can be collected in REDCap because the database is HIPAA and IRB compliant. New GW users should register for a REDCAP account and mandatory training.

Software Downloads

EndNote 20 reference management software - the latest version includes new tools for deduplicating citations, upload and annotate article pdf's, a new interface permits multiple EndNote Libraries to be open at the same time. There are additional search filter downloads available to help you search and import records from our Himmelfarb Library catalog or other databases such as ClinicalTrials.gov.

- SMHS faculty can download from Software Downloads provided by the SMHS IT group
- Milken SPH Faculty can download EndNote from your IT Dept via a separate subscription.
- Students may use use EndNote Online, a cut-down free version that can be accessed from a menu in the Web of Science database.

SPSS 26 Statistical analysis software - model and analyze data to test hypotheses, improve data quality and forecasting, perform nonlinear regression analysis, mixed model analysis, uni and multivariate techniques.

- SMHS faculty can download from Software Downloads provided by the SMHS IT group.

Virtual Computer Lab

Run software remotely using the Virtual Computer Lab:

- NVIVO qualitative research software - analyze interview and field notes transcripts, identify and code common phrases and text to identify themes, query data, and visualize on charts and graphs.
- RStudio - software for running the R programming language for research computing, text mining, data analysis, and visualization.

Microsoft and Adobe Software Downloads

GW Faculty, staff, and students, can download Microsoft and Adobe software from GW Information Technology:

- Microsoft Office 365
- Adobe Creative Cloud applications
- VPN client - to identify your computer on the GW Network

LibKey Nomad

Full text article PDF's can be accessed faster if you download from Libkey Nomad.

- LibKey Nomad - for Google Chrome Browser, provides a 'Download PDF' link as the first option, and if that's not possible will provide other full-text links and Documents2Go document delivery options via Himmelfarb Library.
