COMPUTER PRESENTATIONS IN ROSS HALL CLASSROOMS

If you're planning to use computer presentations in your classroom, Display Services now provides an LCD projector and laptop PC. This equipment is restricted to use in Ross Hall classrooms only. A technician is available Monday through Friday, 7:30am through 4:00pm, to set up computer equipment. After 4:00pm, Monday through Friday, and during weekends, equipment is to be picked up at and returned to the Bloedorn AV Study Center. If you need instruction on the use of the equipment, please make arrangements with the AV staff prior to your presentation. Please reserve equipment in advance by calling (202) 994-2856. If you are planning to use your own software, you may wish to check with the Microcomputer Librarian at (202) 994-1825 for compatibility specifications. Note: anything you install must be deleted following your presentation. Network connections are also available in most of the classrooms. For more information and/or instructions, please contact the AV Study Center.

Himmelfarb Welcomes New Evening/Weekend Supervisors in Circulation

While Keturah Solomon is on maternity leave, two temporary workers will be substituting for her at the Circulation Desk as Evening and Weekend Supervisors. Noreen O'Connor is a doctoral student in English at GW and the wife of Rich Hancuff. Data Technician in the AV Study Center here. Karen Sosnoski is also a doctoral student in English at GW. Please see Noreen or Karen between 4:00PM and midnight, Monday through Friday, for Circulation and Reserve assistance.

ANNUAL ART SHOW

Spring is just around the corner and with it comes the annual Himmelfarb Health Sciences Library Art Show. We are calling on all GWUMC artists to submit their works for display during the month of April. All types of art, including drawings, paintings, sketches, ceramics, pottery, photography, and craft works are welcome. We will begin accepting art work on March 16th at the Reference Desk in the Himmelfarb Library. The contact person is Michael Hackley. If you have any questions, please call him at (202) 994-3656 or email mhackley@gwis2.circ.gwu.edu.

DISTANCE EDUCATION
LISTSERV AVAILABLE

Faculty and staff members involved with Distance Education programs are invited to join the Distance listserv. This discussion group is used to share information on distance education concepts and strategies, and to announce local and national meetings. All interested faculty and staff are eligible to join.

To subscribe, send a message to:
listserv@hermes.circ.gwu.edu.

Leave the subject line blank and type this message: subscribe distance your-first-name your-last-name.

You will then receive a confirmation notice that you are subscribed. If you have any questions, please contact Karyn Pomerantz at kpomeran@gwis2.circ.gwu.edu.

CHANGES IN HIMMELFARB'S LOST AND FOUND POLICIES

Due to limited space at the Circulation Desk and the policy that University Police will only accept lost and found items up to three days after they are turned in, the Library is changing how lost and found items are handled. Circulation staff will no longer maintain a "Lost and Found" drawer at the Desk. We will continue to keep a log of anything that is turned into the Desk, but all items with an estimated value of more than $5 will be turned over to University Police within a few hours. Items of less than $5 in value will be put in a self-service Lost and Found box in the Levine Lounge. If you suspect you left an item behind at the Library, contact Circulation staff at (202) 994-2962. They will consult the log to see if anything matching your description was turned in, tell you when the item was turned over to University Police, and will give you the phone number for University Police Lost and Found.

SATELLITE BROADCAST
HIV/AIDS RELATED ISSUES

Guidelines for the Use of the Antiretroviral Agents in HIV-Infected Adults and Adolescents was broadcast on February 27, 1998. A videotape and printed guidelines are available from the Bloedorn Audiovisual Study Center, Third Floor, Himmelfarb Library. For further information, please call (202)994-2856.

ANNUAL RESEARCH DAY

The GWUMC will sponsor its Annual Research Day, Wednesday, March 25, 1998.

Do you need title banners or posters?

Call Biomedical Communications, Illustration Department at (202)994-3621 for assistance. Myra and Kris will help you.
